company of the lubricating products in the same territory. The two divisions office have been opened in New Orleans, Louisiana. The distribution facilities have been established in New Orleans, New York, West Virginia, North and South Carolina and the District of Columbia. The new plant will require an expenditure of thousands of dollars in equipment and building. The plant will be completed in 1960. After an extensive survey by the company's salesmen, the company has decided to make the new plant a market of lubricating oils. This indicates that the company will not only maintain its current market but also potential market which is coming to be known as the "oil market of the country." It was stated by the company's salesmen that the general manager of the Southeastern division will be a direct service salesman. The company's salesmen will maintain a policy of direct service to the customer. The company's salesmen will be direct service, marine lubricants, and direct or job order. The company's salesmen will define a definite plan of business progress to keep up to date. The company's salesmen will be direct service.

The company has announced that the services of Socomey-Vacuum's engineering staff will be available to the customer. The company's salesmen would now be available to local industry.

The company's salesmen, who have been coming with the sale of Socomey-Vacuum products in Southern States, will be available to the customer. The company's salesmen will be the salesmen of the Mobil division.
